Dear Mr. O'Neill:

I work for the State Alcoholic Rehabilitation Office in Florida, and I am interested in acquiring whatever information I can regarding the Oxford House concept of non-institutional halfway houses. This seems to be a concept that people in our office, and alcoholics and program directors throughout the state will be interested in discussing.

Please send whatever information that is available to:

Dear Mr. O'Neill:

Please send us your booklet containing more details about Oxford House, Inc., a halfway house for alcoholic persons.

We have read the article about Oxford House concept in the December 21, 1977 issue of NIAAA Information & Feature Service. We would like to know more about Oxford House. Thank you.

Sincerely yours,

E. Joyce Scheuerman

Dear Mr. O'Neill,

I have been aware of Oxford Houses since their conception but have not taken the time to inquire about their structure or success.

The county I work in is comprised of approximately 45,000 people and I am the sole alcoholism program. The closest social setting detox and half-way house facility is fifty miles away.

We are very interested in having a home of this type for recovering alcoholics, particularly those just released from an inpatient treatment program.

Any information you can furnish us will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

James H Chapman
